Story 1: The Forgotten Raincoat

On Monday morning, Leo saw dark clouds outside but decided not to bring his raincoat. By lunchtime, heavy rain began to fall. When school ended, Leo ran to the bus stop and his clothes became soaked. He shivered during the ride home. His grandmother noticed his wet jacket and gave him a warm towel. The next morning, Leo checked the weather forecast before packing his schoolbag.

Directions: Fill in the missing causes or effects using information from the story.

CAUSE	EFFECT
Leo left his raincoat at home.	_____ _____
_____ _____	Leo's clothes became soaked.
Leo arrived home in wet clothes.	_____ _____
_____ _____	Leo checked the weather before packing the next morning.

Story 2: The School Garden

The third-grade class planted bean seeds in two garden beds. They watered the first bed every afternoon, but the second bed received little water because its hose was broken. After ten days, the seedlings in the first bed were tall and green. The seedlings in the second bed were small and drooping. The students reported the broken hose to the custodian, who repaired it. Once the second bed received regular water, its plants began growing again.

CAUSE	EFFECT
The hose for the second bed was broken.	_____ _____
_____ _____	The first bed's seedlings grew tall and green.

The students told the custodian about the hose.	_____ _____
_____ _____	The second bed’s plants began growing again.
